Archbishop Wood

Coach: Charlie Stillwell

League: Philadelphia Catholic

1999-2000 league record: 7-0

1999-2000 overall record: 7-1

Returnees: Mary Dixon (Sr., backstroke, breaststroke), Elizabeth Dufner (Sr., butterfly, breaststroke, distance freestyle), Colleen Hallman (Sr., backstroke, breaststroke, individual medley); Shannon Seckinger (Sr., backstroke, individual medley, distance freestyle); Katelyn Crawford (Jr., freestyle, breaststroke); Kelly Dansbury (Jr., backstroke, distance freestyle, butterfly); Theresa Skonicki (Jr., distance freestyle, butterfly, individual medley); Lindsey Stillwell (Jr., sprint freestyle, backstroke, butterfly); Angela Nurek (Jr., freestyle); Meghan Bredin (So., backstroke, distance freestyle); Kelly DiBiagio (So., sprint freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke); Marianne Reuter (So., distance freestyle); Danielle Thomas (So., freestyle); Sarah Letherland (So., freestyle).

Newcomers: Lauren Payne (Jr., freestyle); Amy Dufner (So., freestyle); Elizabeth Lutz (So., freestyle); Valerie Macrone (So., freestyle, butterfly); Joellen Seagraves (So., freestyle, butterfly); Pamela Villagra (So., freestyle); Megan Brennan (Fr., freestyle); Jill Brennecke (Fr., butterfly, freestyle); Blythe Colsher (Fr., freestyle); Katelyn Crompton (Fr., breaststroke, freestyle, butterfly); Melissa DiPento (Fr., freestyle); Yvette Garner (Fr., freestyle, backstroke); Caitlin Harrington (Fr., distance freestyle, individual medley); Michelle Racine (Fr., freestyle); Stephanie Schuh (Fr., butterfly, freestyle); Caitlin Seckinger (Fr., breaststroke, distance freestyle); Lisa Whitlock (Fr., butterfly, backstroke, freestyle).

Outlook: Wood should be competitive this year. A huge turnout will help, which includes a nice core of returning swimmers as well as a lot of new people who can swim a lot of strokes.

Archbishop Wood

Coach: Charlie Stillwell

Last year's record: 8-0

Starters lost: 7

Key returners: Although the Vikings lost three Catholic All-Americans among their seven seniors, they have a talented group of returning veterans. Leading the group is senior Shannon Seckinger, who won All-America honors in three events (backstroke, individual medley, distance freestyle).

Joining her will be seniors Mary Dixon in the backstroke and breaststroke, Elizabeth Dufner in the butterfly, breaststroke and distance freestyle, and Colleen Hallman in the backstroke, breaststroke and IM.

Theresa Skonicki (distance freestyle, butterfly) heads a talented group of juniors that also includes Kelly Dansbury (distance free, backstroke) and Lindsey Stillwell (sprint free, backstroke, butterfly).

The Vikings' depth is also evident in the talented group of sophomores. As a freshman, Kelly DiBiagio was a solid in the sprint freestyle and backstroke events, and is expected to improve this year.

Meghan Bredin is a freestyler who can compete at any distance. Valerie Macrone had an excellent freshman year and should again contribute significantly.

Newcomers: Joellen Seagraves, a sophomore transfer student, has been a competitive swimmer and should contribute right away.

Many of Wood's freshmen have club-level experience. Caitlin Harrington will be challenging the veterans for top spots in the distance freestyle events. Other freshmen to watch are Caitlin Seckinger (back, distance free), Jill Brennecke (fly, free) and Lisa Whitlock (fly, back).

Outlook: With the talented corps of veterans and the solid group of freshmen, the Vikings are hoping to improve their results in the championship meets.

Archbishop Wood

Coach: Charlie Stillwell

Last year's record: 2-5

Starters lost: 4

Key returners: The Vikings return many familiar faces, none of which belong to seniors.

Sophomore Matt O'Connor, who finished in the top six in the Philadelphia Catholic League in both the butterfly and backstroke, swims all strokes.

Junior Kyle Brennecke, a strong PCL performer as a freshman, was injured last year, but will return to compete in the backstroke, butterfly and sprint freestyle events.

Junior Chris Augustine, who can also swim all events, will compete primarily as a freestyler. Tom Keiser, who had a breakthrough year last season, returns to swim the breaststroke and distance freestyle events.

Junior Kevin MacKenzie will provide strength in the breaststroke and freestyle events. Andre Garner will compete in the butterfly and IM, while Kevin Whelen returns for his second year swimming the breaststroke and sprint freestyle.

Rounding out the returning swimmers are sophomores Sean Stillwell and John Dixon.

Newcomers: Freshman Jarrett Kealey, whose strength is the breaststroke and distance freestyle, comes with a solid background in the U.S. Swimming program.

Freshman Kevin Finn, who also has competitive experience, will swim all freestyle, while junior George Zerumski and freshman Bryan Keiser will be starting their swimming careers.

Outlook: "This year's team will again be a small one," Stillwell said. "This year's team has no seniors but a big junior class, and will be led by sophomore Matt O'Connor as they try to improve on last season's record."

Area Girls' Swimming Guide

Swimmers to watch

- Meredith Blackman, Germantown Academy. The senior captain is excellent in the backstroke and butterfly. She is likely to swim on the Patriots' medley relay team this year.
  - Kara Boland, Gwynedd-Mercy Academy. The junior swam the 200-meter butterfly at the Olympic trials. She is the defending PIAA state Class AA champion in the 500 and 200 freestyle events.
  - Tricia Harm, Council Rock. A two-time state silver medalist as a Rock freshman, Harm decided to skip last year's scholastic season in order to train for the Olympic trials. Her decision paid off, as she qualified and swam in the 100 butterfly and the 200 individual medley at the trials. Now, she is back with the Indians.
  - Tracey Hemmerle, Souderton. At the Olympic trials, the incredibly versatile junior finished 25th in the 200-meter breaststroke. She placed second last year in the 200 IM at the state meet and third in the 100 breaststroke.
  - Caitlyn Hyde, Bensalem. The junior has qualified for the state meet two straight years in the 100 freestyle and the 200 freestyle. She is also developing into a leader.
  - Katie Lewis, Central Bucks East. Lewis, a junior diver, is the defending Suburban One League Colonial Division and District 1 Class AAA champion. She combines difficulty with power and versatility.
  - Ashley McNeill, North Penn. The senior is an explosive sprinter who was the fastest member of the Maidens' freestyle relay teams last year. She was also a state qualifier in the 500 freestyle.
  - Meghan Peart, Germantown Academy. A junior captain, Peart is a dynamic sprint freestyler who has won eight titles at the Eastern Interscholastic Swimming and Diving Championships over the last two years. She placed 17th in the 50 freestyle at the Olympic trials.
  - Julie Palumbo, William Tennent. The junior finished 17th in the 50 freestyle at the state meet last year and swam on the Panthers' three state-qualifying relays.
  - Jessica Ranieri and Lisa Silvestri, Lower Moreland. The two juniors are among the best divers in the area and possibly the entire state. Ranieri, a transfer from Abington Friends, won the three-meter and took third in the one-meter at the Amsterdam Diving Cup in the Netherlands last summer, in the 16-18 girls' division. Silvestri is the defending PIAA Class AA champion.
  - Bridget Regan, Bensalem. The junior captain is the two-time defending Suburban One League Patriot Division butterfly champion. She also reached the state meet two straight years in the 200 IM and the 100 butterfly.
  - Maureen Schriver, North Penn. With determination and focus, the senior captain gets the most out of her ability. She qualified for the state meet in the 500 freestyle last year.
  - Shannon Seckinger, Archbishop Wood. The senior has not lost a Catholic League race over the last two years. She was an all-American last year in the IM, the backstroke, and the freestyle.
- Archbishop Wood. The Vikings went 7-0 in the Catholic League and 7-1 overall last year, and they finished second to Cardinal O'Hara in the league championship meet and fourth at the Eastern meet. Wood, under coach Charlie Stillwell, should challenge for the title again with seniors Shannon Seckinger (individual medley, backstroke, freestyle), Mary Dixon (breaststroke), Elizabeth Dufner (butterfly, breast, free), and Colleen Hallman (back, breast, IM); juniors Theresa Skonicki (fly, free), Kelly Dansbury (free) and Lindsey Stillwell; and sophomores Kelly DiBiagio (free), Marianne Reuter (free), and Meghan Bredin (back, free). A group of talented freshmen is also likely to contribute.

1999-2000 overall record: 2-4

Returnees: Thomas Keiser (Jr., breaststroke, freestyle); Kevin MacKenzie (Jr., breaststroke, sprint freestyle); Chris Augustine (Jr., backstroke, distance freestyle); Andre Garner (Jr., individual medley, butterfly); Kyle Brennecke (Jr., butterfly, sprint freestyle, backstroke); Matthew O'Connor (Jr., butterfly, backstroke); Sean Stillwell (So., breaststroke, freestyle); Kevin Whelen (So., breaststroke, sprint freestyle); John Dixon (So., distance freestyle).

Newcomers: George Zerumski (Jr., freestyle); Kevin Finn (Fr., backstroke, freestyle); Jarrett Kealey (Fr., breaststroke, sprint freestyle); Bryan Keiser (Fr., freestyle).

Outlook: Numbers continue to hold back the Vikings, but this turnout is a sign that Stillwell has things going in the right direction. Look for steady improvement from this group, which has no seniors.

Archbishop Ryan 76, Archbishop Wood 64

Caitlyn Harrington won a pair of individual events and swam on Archbishop Wood's winning 200-yard freestyle relay team, but the Vikings fell to Archbishop Ryan, 76-64, in a Philadelphia Catholic League meet Friday.

Harrington won the 200 freestyle in 2:04.13 and later the 500 freestyle in 5:25.85. Wood's 200 relay team of Kelly Dansbury, Kelly DiBiagio, Harrington and Theresa Skonicki finished first in 1:49.36.

Explorers dominate field; Wood takes seventh place

By BILL MCFARLAND

PHILADELPHIA — It may be getting a little old around the rest of the league, but La Salle didn't mind collecting its 13th consecutive Philadelphia Catholic League boys swimming championship Sunday afternoon at La Salle University.

"I never get tired of it," said Explorers coach Frank Lichtner. "Hopefully, we'll be able to come back and win it again next year.

It's what you work for all season. I'm very happy with the results."

La Salle left little to chance and ran away with the title by scoring 847 points. Its closest competitor, Cardinal O'Hara, was a distant second at 520. Father Judge was third with 436 points. Archbishop Wood placed seventh with 145 points.

"We had a tremendous year," said Lichtner. "This is the best year that we've had in my 11 years as the coach. When the big pressure moments came, everybody came through. We couldn't have done any better."

Leading the way was the 200-yard medley relay squad, which won the first event of the meet and broke a record in doing so. The team of Chris Jeffers, Rob Queroli, Jeff Paul and Ian Carey came in at 1 minute, 35.59 seconds to eclipse the existing mark of 1:37.91, which was set by La Salle in 1999.

In the individual events, Pat Healey (200 and 500 freestyles) and Queroli (butterfly and backstroke) each won two races, and Paul (50 freestyle) and Carey (breaststroke) took one event each.

Healey beat teammate Jeffers and O'Hara's Jacob Pritz, both of whom were seeded higher than he, in the 200 freestyle.

"I knew Jeffers had a better time going in, but we've gone back and forth," Healey said.

Healey (1:44.39) dropped four seconds off of his seed time and edged Pritz (1:44.50). Jeffers came in at 1:45.21.

"In the preliminaries, I was right next to Marcum, so I thought that I could stay with him, but I was a little sore, and I couldn't keep up."

Matt O'Connor, Wood swimmer

The 500 freestyle was less dramatic, although La Salle captured the top four places. Healey was the top seed by more than 12 seconds and left the rest of the crowd in his wake. His winning time of 4:43.82 was 16 seconds better than teammate Kevin Rieffel's 4:59.81.

"I wanted to go for our team record, which is 4:36, but I didn't get it," said Healey.

His coach didn't mind.

"No doubt he's the class of the league in that event, and he'll probably be an honorable-mention All-American as a sophomore," said Lichtner. "He's certainly going to be one the leaders of our team in the next few years."

Adam DiMenna and Robert Vrancken placed third and fourth, respectively, in the 500 freestyle. Queroli had a similar experience in his events. He battled head-to-head from start to finish and barely beat O'Hara's William Marcum to claim the 100 butterfly but had an easier time in the 100 backstroke.

"(Marcum) is a good athlete," Queroli said, "and he beat me earlier in the year in the 50 freestyle, but this is my senior year, and I practiced all summer to win (the butterfly)."

In the backstroke, he was the top seed and was never really challenged, except by himself. Queroli's seeding time (53.01) was just a shade under the league record of 52.47, which was set by Wood's Brian Daly in 1989.

Unfortunately for him, he began his final turn a little too soon and appeared to lose a little ground. Queroli finished at 52.99.

"Yeah, I had a bad turn, but that's all right," he said. "I was going for the league record, but I'm not disappointed. It's no big deal."

In other individual events, Paul won the 50 freestyle and was edged by Pritz in the 100 freestyle. Pritz took the 100 with a 47.53, and Paul clocked in at 47.83.

Carey was the top seed in the 100 breaststroke and won it easily with a 59.30. Jeffers placed third in both the 50 and 200 freestyles.

The Explorers also won the 200 freestyle relay (Queroli, Healey, Chris Tuman, Paul) and placed second in the 400 freestyle relay (Jeffers, Ross Muldoon, Tuman, Healey).

Wood had one swimmer in the top three. Matt O'Connor watched Queroli and Marcum battle for the lead and finished third in the butterfly.

"I just wanted to keep up with them to see what I could do," O'Connor said.

"In the preliminaries, I was right next to Marcum, so I thought that I could stay with him, but I was a little sore, and I couldn't keep up."

Father Judge 86, Wood 79

Despite Matt O'Connor taking part in four event victories for Archbishop Wood, the Vikings dropped an 86-79 decision to Father Judge in a Philadelphia Catholic League boys swim meet Friday at Beaver College.

O'Connor's individual wins came in the 100-yard freestyle (52.15) and 200 free (1:55.12). He teamed with Jarrett Kealey, Thomas Keiser and Chris Augustine to win the 200 medley relay (1:48.79), and with Kevin Whelen, Keiser and Augustine to prevail in the 200 free relay (1:37.86).

Boys swim notes

ARCHBISHOP WOOD: Matt O'Connor clocked in at 55.90 to take eighth in the 100-yard butterfly at the National Catholic Championships, held at Villanova University.

Less pressure for Wood at championships

Jeff
Saukaitis
Swimming

During each of the past two seasons, Archbishop Wood's girls swim team went into the Philadelphia Catholic League championship meet with high hopes of claiming the team title.

Both times, the Vikings went unbeaten in regular-season dual meets. Despite winning a majority of the championship-meet events, they still suffered agonizingly close losses to Cardinal O'Hara in the team title chase.

When Wood competes in the PCL championships this weekend (Saturday and Sunday at Villanova University), O'Hara will be the favorite to come away with yet another girls team title.

This time, though, the Vikings won't be expected to make a big run at the championship. They went 5-2 in dual meets, losing to O'Hara and Archbishop Ryan. Unbeaten O'Hara rolled past Ryan, 102-68, to finish first during the regular season.

Wood junior Theresa Skonicki said the Vikings' current third-place standing doesn't at all dampen their enthusiasm heading into the championship meet.

"I think the team will do really well," she said. "We have some freshmen who have been doing really well for us this year, and I think I'll do well at the meet."

"Maybe it'll be a little different for us this year, but it's still going to be a competition. I don't know if we're exactly looking at a first-place finish, but a lot of teams and swimmers are going to be going for their best individual times, and it's going to be competitive."

"The competition is going to make it really exciting."

During the past two years, Wood boasted the league's top individual swimmers, and O'Hara needed all of its superior depth to edge past the Vikings. This year, the Vikings' projected No. 1 swimmer, Lehigh-bound senior Shannon Seckinger, underwent shoulder surgery in December. She didn't compete in a dual meet this year until Feb. 12, so she probably won't be 100 percent for the PCL title meet.

"More than one person makes up a team," Skonicki said. "Everybody worked hard, and (losing Seckinger) gave us more reason to step it up."

Wood lost standouts Carol Crouthamel, Jillian Fitzgerald and Mary Skonicki to graduation after last season. Winning any individual events at the PCL championships won't be easy for the Vikings this weekend, but several Wood swimmers have posted times that rank among the finest in the league this season.

Freshman Caitlyn Harrington's top times rank her second in the 500-yard freestyle (5 minutes, 23.02 seconds), third in the 100 free (57.2) and 200 free (2:00.93), fourth in the 100 backstroke (1:04.68) and eighth in the 200 individual medley (2:26.78). Fellow freshman Caitlin Seckinger is ranked second in the 100 breaststroke (1:14.95) and eighth in the 500 free (5:49.85).

Theresa Skonicki is rated fourth in the 200 free (2:02.70), 500 free (5:33.19) and 200 IM (2:02.27), fifth in the 100 free (57.54) and sixth in the 100 butterfly (1:05.46). Fellow junior Kelly Dansbury is ranked sixth in the 500 free (5:46.53), eighth in the 100 back (1:07.59), ninth in the 200 IM (2:26.81) and 10th in the 100 fly (1:07.85).

Skonicki will be swimming in the 100 free and 200 IM this weekend, and she has set high goals.

"Personally, I would like to finish either first or second in my two individual events," she said. "Team-wise, I'm not sure how we're going to place, but I know we're going to try our hardest."

The Archbishop Wood boys, who finished 2-5 in PCL dual-meet action, are not expected to challenge for one of the top spots in team scores at the league championship meet.

The Vikings are still capable of a couple of big highlights, since junior Matt O'Connor will likely challenge for titles in the 100 backstroke and 100 butterfly. During the regular season, he posted the league's second-best time in the fly (a team-record 55.22) and fifth-best time in the back (57.48).

Wood's O'Connor works double duty

By Bill Iezzi
INQUIRER SUBURBAN STAFF

He is the best swimmer on the team, Archbishop Wood's only all-Catholic competitor.

He is only a junior, and, on a squad with no seniors, he would seem to be a candidate for captaincy — but Matt O'Connor never will assume that role for the Vikings. Not as long as he does not practice with them.

To be a captain at Wood, a swimmer must do drills with the team. The 6-foot-2, 178-pound backstroke and butterfly specialist does all of his practicing with his club team, Spirit, in Newtown.

"It's my rule," Wood coach Charlie Stillwell said. "My philosophy is that a captain is there to build up team confidence, and to do that, he must be with the other kids on a daily basis. Matt O'Connor would make a great captain."

More important to O'Connor, who lives in Upper Makefield, is making a valuable contribution to Wood's team in the meets in which he competes. The way he does that is by training hard with Spirit, which has a much more rigorous practice schedule.

At the George School in Newtown, where the club team trains, O'Connor churns 6,000 to 7,000 yards per practice, eight times a week. He is a veteran club swimmer who has logged more U.S. Swimming meets than scholastic ones, and enjoys the high level of competition that runs between December and March.

La Salle 96, Archbishop Wood 74 — Chris Augustine and Matthew O'Connor won two individual events each, but Archbishop Wood dropped a 96-74, Philadelphia Catholic League swim meet to LaSalle.

La Salle 96, Archbishop Wood 74
200 medley relay—LaSalle (Pat Healey, Brian Neary, Garret McDowell, Kevin Rieffel) 1:52.05; 200 freestyle—Adam DiMenna (L) 1:56.09; 200 individual medley—Pat Healey (L) 2:17.85; 50 freestyle—Chris Augustine (AW) 23.80; 100 butterfly—Matthew O'Connor (AW) 55.35; 100 freestyle—Chris Augustine (AW) 53.74; 500 freestyle—Michael Nunzi (L) 5:33.27; 200 freestyle relay—LaSalle (Tim Adams, Brian Hopkins, Kevin Egan, Kevin Rieffel) 1:39.44; 100 backstroke—Matthew O'Connor (AW) 57.48; 100 breaststroke—Brian Neary (L) 1:11.14; 400 freestyle—LaSalle (Patrick Gallagher, Kevin Egan, Joel Worster, Adam DiMenna) 3:41.07.

O'Connor's goal at the club level is to place in the top 20 in the 100-yard butterfly and the 100 and 200 backstroke races at the regional meet March 15 to 18 in Fairfax, Va., and qualify for senior nationals the following week in Austin, Texas. College coaches watch senior national swimmers closely. O'Connor, 17, wants to swim in college, although he does not know for which one.

For Wood, O'Connor wants to score points at the big meets — the Eastern championships, the National Catholic meet, and the Philadelphia Catholic League championships — and help the Vikings win during the regular season, as well.

"I enjoy swimming for the high school as much as the club," O'Connor said. "I don't feel funny about competing with Wood and not practicing with the team, because I go to school with them. A lot of the kids are in my classes."

"I like the kids and the coach. I like the kids and the coach of the club team, too. It's no problem going from one team to another."

"The club team is more successful [in terms of personal times]; Wood's record last year was 2-6. But I don't care. I'm happy to help them win a meet or two."

His peers are glad that he transferred to Wood after his freshman year at Council Rock, where he was not permitted to practice so intensely with his club team and still compete with the Indians in the Suburban One League National Conference.

"Our policy is that a swimmer must make five practices a week," Council Rock coach Brian Johnson said.

That was too stringent for a swimmer who had been with his club team since he was 10, under the same coach, Bob Platt. O'Connor did not want to alter his training schedule in any way, or leave a coach who he felt understood him, recognized his potential, and could help him realize it.

"Matt can be successful at the Division I level," Platt said. "It depends on him, how much he dedicates himself."

O'Connor's dedication waned between March and September of last year, when he concentrated on playing baseball for the school and in local leagues. He stayed out of the water for about six months, and it hurt him.

"He's not going to do that this year," Platt said. "I worked him really hard to get him back into swimming shape."

O'Connor won both of his individual events against perennial league champion La Salle during a home meet that Wood lost on Jan. 19, 96-74.

"Knowing that Matt is coming to the meets is comforting because we know that he'll score the big points we need," said Wood junior Chris Augustine, the only other double winner for Wood against La Salle.

"If he didn't swim for Spirit, he'd be one of our captains. The team would vote for him. He's usually there for anything our team does together."

Everything, that is, but practice.

Matt O'Connor had a hand in three wins Thursday, but Archbishop Wood dropped a 57-35 decision to St. Joseph's Prep in a Philadelphia Catholic League boys swim meet.

O'Connor placed first in the 200-yard individual medley (2 minutes, 11.11 seconds) and 500 freestyle (5:23.00). He also joined Chris Augustine, Andre Gardner and Jarrett Kealey for a first-place finish in the 400 free relay (3:55.10).

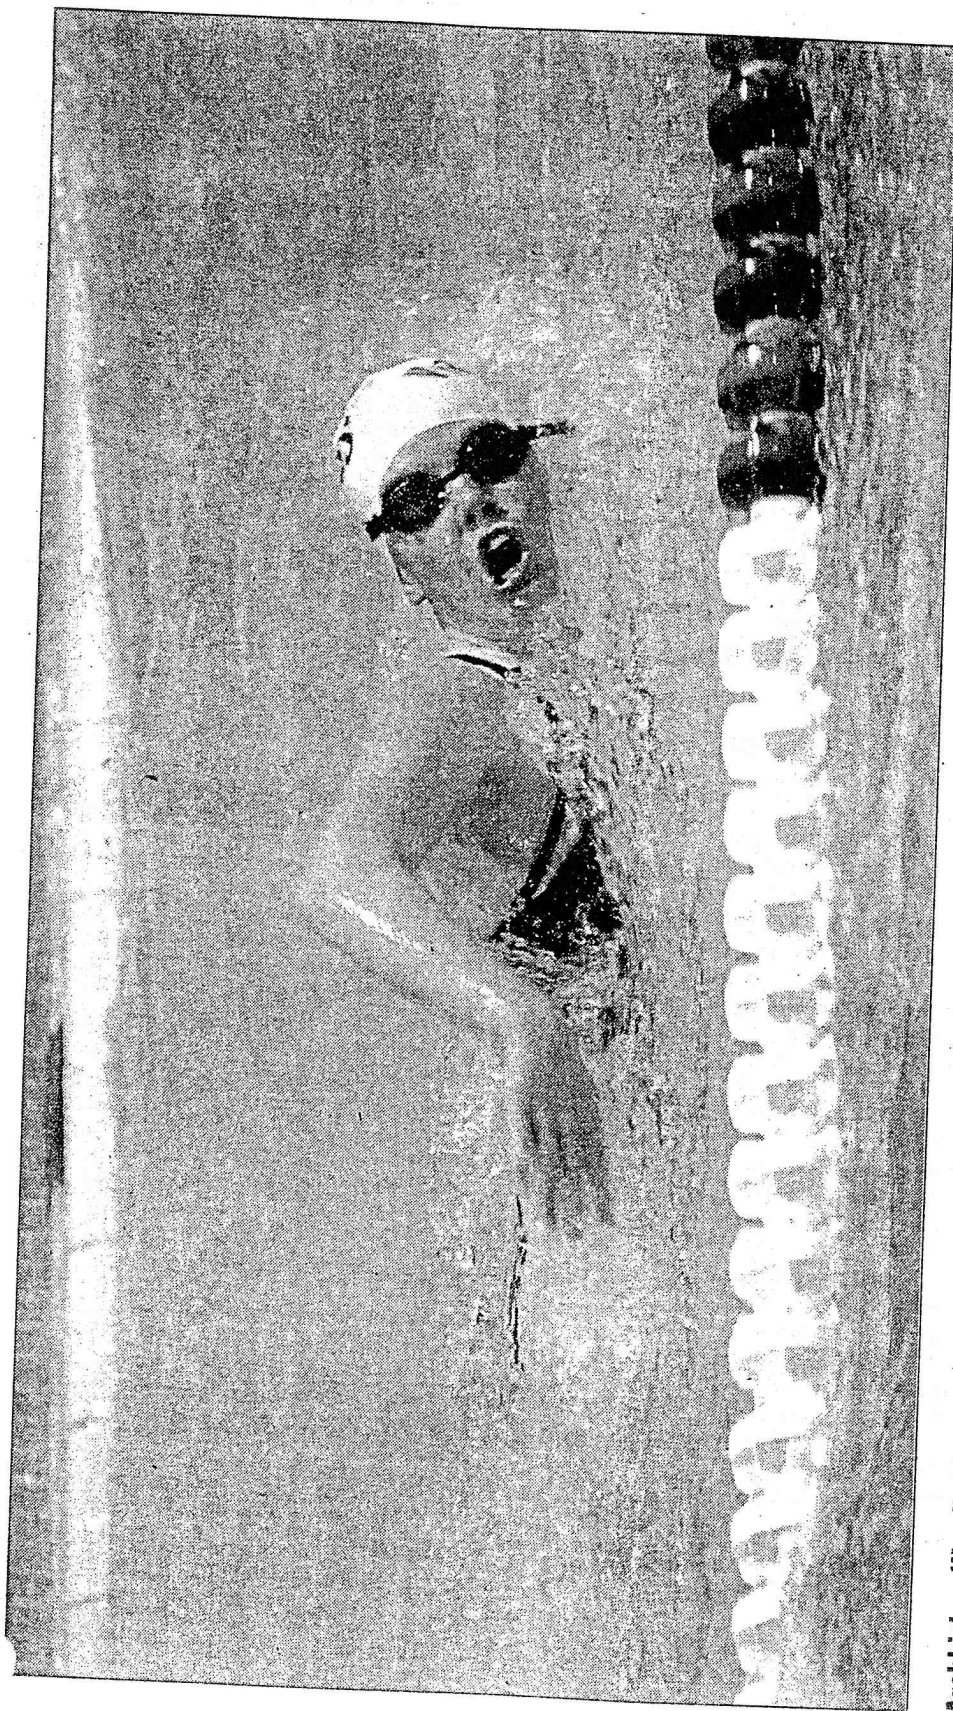

The Vikings' other win came courtesy of Thomas Keiser in the 100 breaststroke (1:12.93).

Archbishop Wood graduate Carol Crouthamel is hoping for success at the U.S. Olympic Swim Trials.

Swimming

Crouthamel completed a successful high school career this year at Archbishop Wood. She competed in distance events, sprints, relays and medleys. Incredibly, she never lost a Philadelphia Catholic League meet or dual meet of any kind during her four years as a varsity swimmer.

Starting today and through Aug. 12, she will be in Indianapolis, where she will participate in the 200-meter breaststroke at the U.S. Olympic Swim Trials.

Carol Crouthamel

Her high school coach, Charlie Stillwell, can't lavish enough praise on Crouthamel. "I would say she's been one of the best, if not the best, swimmer to come through Wood," he said.

"She's been good from day one. There have been others who have swam here who got progressively better as they got older and may have accomplished the same sorts of things, but we've never had anyone believes Crouthamel will ultimately have the most success at the distance events.

"The longer the distance the better she is and that will help her in college and against better competition," he stated. "The training she's done in high school has basically prepared her for college."

The swimmer agreed: "I personally prefer distance over speed. The speed training definitely has helped me. It gave me a great base. It really helped me learn how to practice. I think in college I'll do more work on my stroke and my technique."

Crouthamel will attend Minnesota in the fall, opting for the Land of 10,000 Lakes over the University of Michigan and Miami, (Fla.). She will major in secondary education, with an emphasis on English.

It was a tough decision but Crouthamel ultimately followed her gut. "I liked the school. The people were great and made me feel comfortable right away."

Stillwell believes his former swimmer has just reached the tip of the iceberg.

"The level of swimmers will challenge her more (in college) and, if she does what I think she can do, she'll rise to the level of competition," he said.

"I don't think she's peaked yet. Carol is at the point where it comes down to working. The next step is to get to a top five level and then the next step is the top two. She can get there."

Crouthamel is eager to see what the future holds, but at the same time she doesn't want to get too carried away with expectations. "I know how much work it takes (to get to the next level). I'll probably try to qualify in 2004 for the Athens games. If I don't make it, then I'll get on with my teaching career."

With her long-term goals resolved her short-term goal at the Olympic Trials in Indianapolis is "to do my best time, which I haven't done in a year." While the future teacher is still a student, don't be surprised if her "best time" continues to improve.

like her."

Among Crouthamel's accomplishments is the PCL record for the 100-meter breaststroke, which she shattered by five seconds.

However, as Crouthamel learned at the 1998 Senior Nationals in California, the sport that favored her so much in high school can also be a cruel messenger. Ultimately, she qualified for the Olympic Trials by a mere second. But it didn't have to be that close.

During a time trial, Crouthamel "had done my best time ever." The time was so good, in fact, that she would have made it to the finals of nationals. However, Crouthamel didn't get a chance to celebrate. "When I got out of the water an official came over to me and told me that my elbows had come out of the water (a violation)." Crouthamel was disqualified.

"It was really disappointing. I would have made it to the national finals except for a minor technicality."

If she wanted to earn a trip to the Olympic trials she would have dove into an empty pool the next morning and try to qualify against a clock without any competition pushing her. For an athlete who had yet to be seriously pushed, this would prove to be a challenge. Crouthamel remained confident despite the setback.

"I knew if I got a chance to go back in the pool I could still reach my original goal — which was to qualify for nationals. I just put (the disqualification) behind me because if I didn't I would just end up selling myself short."

When she made it — even if it was by just one second — Stillwell wasn't surprised. "She never swam down to the level of the competition in high school. She basically swam against herself all through her time here at Wood."

"I was never overconfident," Crouthamel said. "I always expected to be challenged in every race I was in."

Like many other successful swimmers from the region, Crouthamel got her start with the Spirit Swimming program at The George School in Newtown. It took some time for Crouthamel to come around though. "I didn't start training seriously until seventh grade," she said. "I wanted to see how well I could do if I put some work into it. And I just kind of went from there."

From there, she moved to Archbishop Wood where she was the Vikings most versatile swimmer. Although she swam in virtually every event at one time or another during her stay at Wood, Stillwell

Fitzgerald swims into Hall

Wood honors former swimmer, current assistant coach

Cindy Stillwell Fitzgerald swam at Archbishop Wood.

Then, she came back to Wood and coached the Vikings' girls swim team.

She currently serves as assistant coach for the boys and girls programs.

And Saturday, Fitzgerald will be honored as one of 10 newest inductees to the Archbishop Wood Sports Hall of Fame, in a banquet and ceremony at Williamson's Restaurant in Horsham.

The 1979 graduate's accomplishments in the pool were quite significant, as she earned All-Philadelphia Catholic League recognition all four years. She set team records in six different events, and eventually went on to become an All-American and record-holder at the University of Maryland.

She said that going from Wood to Maryland was a big adjustment. In the 1970s, there weren't the restrictions that the NCAA imposes on teams today in practice time, and Fitzgerald said the swimmers would often spend five or six hours per day in the pool.

Despite all the changes to athletics, especially female sports, through the years, Fitzgerald said she does not think things have changed much in swimming.

"The sport itself hasn't changed very much," she said. "There is a lot more outside participation now, with all of the clubs, but swimmers haven't changed all that much since then."

Wood Hall of Fame

Fitzgerald was the head coach of Wood girls swim team from 1982-87. During that time, the Vikings won the National Catholic Championships and she was named National Catholic Coach of the Year.

"When I came back from Maryland, I got into coaching," she said. "I just missed it. That was a means for me to get back into the sport.

"I like dealing with kids. It's really great to see them coming along and improving."

She currently is an assistant for Wood's boys and girls teams now, while her brother, Charlie Stillwell, also a Wood and Maryland alum, serves as the team's head coach.

One of Fitzgerald's most recent pupils was her own daughter. Jillian Fitzgerald, a 2000 graduate, was part of three school-record setting relay teams and currently swims at the University of Delaware.

Wood to induct 10 into Hall of Fame

Archbishop Wood will hold its second annual sports Hall of Fame induction next Saturday, Jan. 20, Williamson's Restaurant in Horsham. Cocktails are at 6:30 p.m., followed by an awards dinner at 7:30 p.m.

The inductees include Greg Bedesem (football, wrestling, Class of '76); Dave Cardie (soccer, Class of '81); Joanne Cardie Stanton (field hockey, Class of '83); Kelly Greenburg (field hockey, basketball, softball, Class of '85); Tom Haggerty (basketball, Class of '74); Susan Mekel Zubak (track, Class of '75); Mike Patterson (basketball, track, Class of '72); Cindy Stillwell Fitzgerald (swimming, Class of '79); and Joe Winning (golf, Class of '73).

Former girls soccer coach Eileen Richart will also be inducted. In 10 seasons, Richart won six Philadelphia Catholic League titles and finished runner-up three times.

Cindy Stillwell Fitzgerald (Class of 1979) — Swimming four years, track two years; All-Catholic League swimming four years; attended the University of Maryland; swimming three years at Maryland, All-America as freshman; girls swimming coach at Wood (1982-1987); currently assistant swimming coach at Wood and head track coach for St. Joseph/St. Robert CYO track team; insurance broker, president of Robert J. Stillwell Agency, Spring House; married (Jim) with five children.

Vikings vow to be competitive

During each of the past two seasons, Archbishop Wood's girls swim team went into the Philadelphia Catholic League championship meet with high hopes of claiming the team title.

Both times, the Vikings went unbeaten in regular-season dual meets. Despite winning a majority of the championship-meet events, they still suffered agonizingly close losses to Cardinal O'Hara in the team title chase.

When Wood competes in the PCL championships this weekend (Saturday and Sunday at Villanova University), O'Hara will be the favorite to come away with yet another girls team title.

This time, though, the Vikings won't be expected to make a big run at the championship. They went 5-2 in dual meets, losing to O'Hara and Archbishop Ryan. Unbeaten O'Hara rolled past Ryan, 102-68, to finish first during the regular season.

Wood junior Theresa Skonicki said the Vikings' current third-place standing doesn't dampen their enthusiasm at all heading into the championship meet.

"I think the team will do really well," she said. "We have some freshmen who have been doing really well for us this year, and I think I'll do well at the meet."

"Maybe it'll be a little different for us this year, but it's still going to be a competition. I don't know if we're exactly looking at a first-place finish, but a lot of teams and swimmers are going to be going for their best individual times, and it's going to be competitive."

"The competition is going to make it really exciting."

During the past two years, Wood boasted the league's top individual swimmers, and O'Hara needed all of its superior depth to edge past the Vikings. This year, the Vikings' projected No. 1 swimmer, Lehigh-bound senior Shannon Seckinger, underwent shoulder surgery in December. She didn't compete in a dual meet this year until Feb. 12, so she probably won't be 100 percent for the PCL title meet.

"More than one person makes up a team," Skonicki said. "Everybody worked hard, and (losing Seckinger) gave us more reason to step it up."

Wood lost standouts Carol Crouthamel, Jillian Fitzgerald and Mary Skonicki to graduation after last season. Winning any individual events at the PCL championships won't be easy for the Vikings this weekend, but several Wood swimmers have posted times that rank among the finest in the league this season.

Freshman Caitlyn Harrington's top times rank her second in the 500-yard freestyle (5 minutes, 23.02 seconds), third in the 100 free (57.2) and 200 free (2:00.93), fourth in the 100 backstroke (1:04.68) and eighth in the 200 individual medley (2:26.78). Fellow freshman Caitlin Seckinger is ranked second in the 100 breaststroke (1:14.95) and eighth in the 500 free (5:49.85).

Theresa Skonicki is rated fourth in the 200 free (2:02.70), 500 free (5:33.19) and 200 IM (2:02.27), fifth in the 100 free (57.54) and sixth in the 100 butterfly (1:05.46). Fellow junior Kelly Dansbury is ranked sixth in the 500 free (5:46.53), eighth in the 100 back (1:07.59), ninth in the 200 IM (2:26.81) and 10th in the 100 fly (1:07.85).

Skonicki will be swimming in the 100 free and 200 IM this weekend, and she has set high goals.

"Personally, I would like to finish either first or second in my two individual events," she said. "Team-wise, I'm not sure how we're going to place, but I know we're going to try our hardest."

The Archbishop Wood boys, who finished 2-5 in PCL dual-meet action, are not expected to challenge for one of the top spots in team scores at the league championship meet.

The Vikings are still capable of a couple of big highlights, since junior Matt O'Connor will likely challenge for titles in the 100 backstroke and 100 butterfly. During the regular season, he posted the league's second-best time in the fly (a team-record 55.22) and fifth-best time in the back (57.48).

Wood girls standout Shannon Seckinger is working her way back after undergoing shoulder surgery on Dec. 8.

The Lehigh University-bound backstroker had been bothered for some time by a tendon in her shoulder that had stretched out. She had it shrunk during an arthroscopic procedure, and doctors said that, when fully healed, it should be as strong as ever.

Seckinger wasn't even able to lift her arm until last week, but she recently started working out in the backstroke while using just one arm.

"She swam a 1:06 with one arm—that's how talented she is," said Wood coach Charlie Stillwell. "She probably won't be able to go hard until about the last week of February."

That would probably rule her out of the Eastern Interscholastic Championships on Feb. 23-24, but she and Stillwell are hoping she could be ready for the Philadelphia Catholic League championships March 3-4.

Narrowing focus, Wood's O'Connor exceeds goals

Recent record-breaking performance proves intense training enough to overcome hiatus

BY BILL KEEN

Staff Writer

Athletes who specialize in one sport never have a problem deciding what to do during the off-season.

Archbishop Wood's Matt O'Connor isn't so fortunate. Not only does he excel in swimming, he's also a dedicated baseball player, and therein lies his dilemma.

Where should he focus his attention during the summer?

Following the 1999-2000 school year, O'Connor elected to concentrate on baseball and began a six-month self-imposed hiatus from the pool.

"Matt is a great kid; he works hard and does a lot of extra (training) yards at practice with Spirit in Newtown," said Stillwell, referring to the club team for which O'Connor also swims.

"His teammates know he's a lot of fun to be around, and they really respect him because of the hard work he puts in with the school team and with Spirit."

Stillwell wasn't surprised the junior set the record because he tapers for Easterns and considers it to be his biggest meet of the year.

It was a far cry from last summer, when O'Connor's only time spent in the pool was when he wanted to cool off after a baseball game.

"It was difficult (to sit out that long), but not as hard as it might have been because, in a way, I always faced that decision," O'Connor said.

"Other summers, I tried to do

Boys Swimming

That explains why he didn't know what to expect when the Vikings began preseason practice.

His immediate goal was to regain the physical conditioning he had when he climbed out of the pool last March - whether or not he made it would determine how successful he would be, as far as personal bests were concerned.

Let it be known O'Connor's intense training efforts were successful.

Last Saturday at the Eastern Interscholastic Swimming Championships at Villanova University, he set a school record in the 100-yard both, and this time I took a six-month break from swimming."

Pointing out the affect it had, Stillwell said: "I think it actually helped him because, when he came back, he was refreshed and had a good mental attitude about the job facing him."

O'Connor said he and his teammates are looking forward to the PCL meet.

"We're really together as a team and everybody is excited," he said. "We feel like we could surprise some people."

Asked how last week's new record time will affect him this week, O'Connor said: "I think it sets me up really well (for a three-way battle in the 100 fly with Rob Queroli of La Salle and Bill Marcum of Cardinal O'Hara).

"Because I went that fast, I know exactly what I'm capable of doing."

butterfly.

His time of 53.22 seconds was more than two seconds off the previous record he set in January during a meet against Archbishop Ryan.

This weekend at La Salle University, O'Connor will be looking to do it again in the Philadelphia Catholic League championships.

"When I broke the record in January, it wasn't that big a deal because I set the old record last season as a sophomore," O'Connor said.

"But I was definitely excited and felt pretty good about myself at Easterns.

"I really didn't expect to be able to swim that fast this year. I went way beyond my goals from the start of the season."

Wood coach Charlie Stillwell knows how much O'Connor means to his teammates.

PCL swimming

What: Philadelphia Catholic League boys and girls swimming championships

Where: Kirk Pool, La Salle University

When: Trials, Saturday, 8 a.m.; Finals, Sunday, 11 a.m.

Swimmers to watch: The La Salle boys and Cardinal O'Hara girls are favored to come away with team championships, but Archbishop Wood should provide a few individual highlights. The Vikings' Matt O'Connor, a junior, is a threat to win either or both of his two individual events - the 100-yard butterfly and 100 backstroke. For the Wood girls, Caitlyn Harrington, Theresa Skonicki, Caitlin Seckinger and Kelly Dansbury should be in the hunt for medals.

At stake: PCL team and individual championships.

Wood senior determined to put best arm forward

Despite surgery on her right shoulder in December, Shannon Seckinger finished out the regular season strong.

By Ira Josephs

INQUIRER SUBURBAN STAFF

With her legs kicking furiously and her left arm in overdrive, Shannon Seckinger is proving she's still the same competitor, if not quite the same swimmer.

Although the Archbishop Wood senior may be swimming with one shoulder, she still has her spirit and sense of humor.

After years of wear and tear from swimming, Seckinger had to undergo surgery on her right shoulder on Dec. 8. She was forced out of the pool for nearly two months. Even though her shoulder is still mending, Seckinger received her doctor's approval to resume racing — albeit with one arm. That's right: Seckinger has been competing for the last two weeks without the use of her right arm.

Still, she placed third in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1 minute, 13.23 seconds in a recent Catholic League meet against St. Hubert at Beaver College. She lowered her time to 1:11.30 in Monday's league meet against Archbishop Carroll at Cabrini College. She also swam unofficially in the Vikings' meet against visiting Cardinal O'Hara at Klinger Middle School on Friday.

"She's really champing at the bit," Wood coach Charlie Stillwell said. "She has that killer instinct. There are two types of people, those who are afraid of competition and then the type that Shannon is. She knows she will win. That's why she always did so well."

JOHN SLAVIN / Inquirer Suburban Staff

Archbishop Wood's Shannon Seckinger practices the backstroke using only her left arm. She expects to swim with both arms by the end of March.

Entering this season, Seckinger had not lost a Catholic League race in two years. She swam a scholastic personal best time of 59.76 seconds in the 100 backstroke last season, and placed fourth at the Eastern Interscholastic Championships in 59.92. She was also third at the Eastern meet last year in the 200-yard individual medley in 2:08.80, and swam on the third-place 200 medley relay that set a Catholic League record of 1:50.42.

The Eastern meet is set for tomorrow and Saturday at La Salle University. This weekend, Seckinger will be cheering on her teammates instead of swimming with them. She's all right with that.

"At first, I was a little upset," Seckinger said. "Now, I'm having a good time getting everybody else excited and ready to swim fast."

Who wouldn't be inspired by her determination?

"People are a little surprised, confused," she said. "I just hold [my arm] on my side and swim with the one good one. They ask me why I'm doing it and what happened. I just tell them I had surgery, and this is the best I can do to get back in the pool."

Seckinger has also taken the jokes in stride — or in this case, in stroke.

"They tell me not to swim in circles," she said with a laugh. "They joke about how one arm is better than none."

A resident of Churchville, Seckinger was also a spectator at Richboro Swim Club before she started competing at age 8.

"I used to sit at the swim club and watch the older kids swim," she said. "They looked like they were having fun."

Although Seckinger said she did not have immediate success, she liked the sport from the start and learned all the strokes. The next winter, she began swimming more seriously with NRG Swimming in Langhorne.

"I knew I wanted to get better," she said. "I was motivated to want to do it. It was fun, and there were a lot of people you could be friends with."

Through age 12, Seckinger also played soccer and softball at Churchville Elementary School and Richboro Junior High. She decided that she was more serious about swimming, and decided to specialize. Seckinger went out for the team at Council Rock in her freshman year, but finding the time to commit to both NRG and the Indians was nearly impossible. She decided to concentrate on club swimming.

Wood also has a strong swimming tradition, and allows its swimmers to practice frequently with their clubs. Carol Crouthamel and Mary Skonicki, former Wood standouts who graduated last year, recommended their school to Seckinger and she transferred for her sophomore year.

"They told me how great the team was and how they got along with their friends and teachers," Seckinger said. "I loved high school swimming. It was great, and the school was great. I was happy with the decision. I tried to practice there as much as I could."

In addition to her success at the Eastern meet, Seckinger won Catholic League titles in the 100 backstroke and the 200 IM as both a sophomore and a junior. She was also the national Catholic champion last year in the two events.

Seckinger, who is completing physical therapy, expects to be able to swim with both arms by the end of March. A strong student, Seckinger is involved in the Community Service Club at Wood. She has already decided to attend Lehigh University.

"We told them what was happening with my shoulder, and the coach [Chris Marshall] said it wasn't a problem as long as I was ready in August," she said. "I'm very excited."

O'Connor quickly becoming one of best in Wood history

Matt O'Connor took last spring off from swimming so he could concentrate on playing baseball at Archbishop Wood.

Back in the pool this winter, the junior is working harder and swimming faster than ever.

"It took a while to get back into shape," O'Connor said. "I guess it forced me to work even harder."

O'Connor last Friday swam the school's second-best-ever time in the 100-yard butterfly, finishing in 55.35 seconds to capture the event during the Vikings' 96-74 loss to La Salle.

Who has the school's best-ever butterfly time? That would also be O'Connor. He initially broke the record last year, then bettered his own standard earlier this month with a 55.22 during a dual meet against Archbishop Ryan.

O'Connor spent his freshman season at Council Rock, but he didn't swim there because of time commitments with his club team, Newtown-based Spirit Swimming. He transferred to Wood for his sophomore year, went out for the team and finished fifth in the backstroke and sixth in the butterfly at the Philadelphia Catholic League championship meet.

"I think I'm capable of winning the 100 back and finishing maybe second in the 100 fly this year," O'Connor said. "I'm a little more confident this year because I know where I'm at and I know what the competition is."

It's still relatively early in his second season at Wood, but O'Connor has arguably established himself as the second-best male swimmer in school history. Only Brian Daly, who set the PCL backstroke record (52.47) in 1989 and went on to swim at Purdue University, clearly has better overall credentials.

Jeff
Saukaitis
Swimming

"He's probably in the top three at least, with Brian Daly and (breaststroke record-holder) Denny Walrath," said Wood coach Charlie Stillwell.

Already, O'Connor ranks No. 1 all-time at Wood in the fly, second in the backstroke (56.32), fourth in the 200 individual medley (2:09.90), fifth in the 500 freestyle (5:20.22) and 10th in the 100 free (53.12). Last year, he joined Kevin Whelen, Chris Augustine and Matt MacKenzie for a Wood record-setting performance in the 200 free relay (1:35.040).

O'Connor said he hopes to break 52.0 in the 100 fly and 55.0 in the 100 back before the end of the season.

"He took the spring off for baseball, then came back like gangbusters," Stillwell said. "He's really cranking them out. He's gone even faster - 53 (seconds) in the fly and 55 in the back - for his club."

"He's an extremely hard worker, and he's just getting started. For male swimmers, the junior and senior years are where you often see the biggest drop in times because their overall strength is better. He's doing more weight training than before, and he's responded well.

"The biggest difference between this year and last year is that his starts and turns are unbelievable now. He has tremendous strength off the blocks."

Wood 98, St. Hubert 72

Theresa Skonicki and Caitlyn Harrington each posted a pair of individual-event wins and also swam on two first-place relays Friday, helping Archbishop Wood's girls swim team post a 98-72 victory over St. Hubert in a Philadelphia Catholic League meet at Beaver College.

Skonicki prevailed in the 200-yard individual medley (2 minutes, 22.32 seconds) and 100 butterfly (1:05.46). She also joined Kelly DiBiagio, Kelly Dansbury and Harrington for a win in the 200 free relay (1:48.52), and Harrington, Jill Brennecke and Caitlin Seckinger for a victory in the 400 free relay (4:03.00).

Harrington's individual wins came in the 200 freestyle (2:02.85) and 100 free (57.20).

Archbishop Ryan 96, Archbishop Wood 74—The Vikings kept it close, but could not overcome a deficit it faced from the first even in last Friday's meet against Archbishop Ryan. Caitlyn Harrington won two individual races and swam on the winning 200 free relay team for Wood.

Wood topples Carroll

The Archbishop Wood girls swimming team defeated Archbishop Carroll 91-79 in Philadelphia Catholic League action Monday night.

Sports Briefs

Individual winners for the Vikings were Kelly Dansbury (500 freestyle) Caitlyn Harrington (100 backstroke) and Caitlin Seckinger (100 breaststroke). Seckinger led a sweep of the breaststroke, which propelled the Vikings to victory.

The Wood 200 IM relay team and the 400 free relay team were also victorious.

The Vikings will participate in the Eastern Interscholastic Championships on Friday and Saturday at La Salle University.

Boys

La Salle 96, Archbishop Wood 74

La Salle swept all three relays to handle Archbishop Wood, 96-74, in Philadelphia Catholic League boys swimming action Friday at Klinger Middle School.

Wood had two double winners: Chris Augustine in the 50 (23.8 seconds) and 100 (53.74) freestyles and Matthew O'Connor in the 100 butterfly (55.35) and 100 backstroke (57.48).

The Explorers got individual wins from Pat Healey in the 200-yard individual medley (2 minutes, 17.85 seconds); Michael Nunnari (500 free, 5:33.27); Adam DiMenna (200 free, 1:56.09); and Brian Neary (100 breaststroke, 1:11.14).

Healey and Neary also swam on the winning 200 medley relay and DiMenna swam on the 400 freestyle relay.

Kevin Rieffel and Kevin Egan swam on two winning relays for the Explorers while Garret McDowell, Brian Hopkins, Patrick Gallagher, Joel Worster and Tim Adams swam on one.

Wood tops Prendy

Caitlyn Harrington won the 200-yard freestyle and the 100 backstroke as Archbishop Wood defeated Archbishop Prendergast, 91-77, in a Philadelphia Catholic League girls swim meet Monday.

Scholastic Report

Caitlin Seckinger won the 100 breaststroke and helped the Vikings to a win in the 200 medley relay.

Bonner 87, Wood 75

Matthew O'Connor, Bryan Keiser and Thomas Keiser picked up Archbishop Wood's only individual victories Monday in the Vikings' 87-75 loss to Monsignor Bonner in a PCL boys swim meet.

Archbishop Ryan 76, Archbishop Wood 64

Caitlyn Harrington won a pair of individual events and swam on Archbishop Wood's winning 200 freestyle relay team, but the Vikings fell to Archbishop Ryan, 76-64, in a Philadelphia Catholic League meet on Friday.

Harrington won the 200 freestyle in 2:04.13, and later the 500 freestyle in 5:25.85. Wood's 200 relay team of Kelly Dansbury, Kelly DiBiagio, Harrington and Theresa Skonicki finished first in 1:49.36.

Dansbury was Wood's other winner in the 100 freestyle, beating out the competition in 59.45 seconds.

Wood rides wave. Archbishop Wood enters the Catholic League championships tomorrow and Sunday as the third seed behind Cardinal O'Hara and Archbishop Ryan.

The Vikings have placed second to O'Hara in each of the last two years despite swimming with smaller teams.

"I think we're pretty solid where we are," Wood coach Charlie Stillwell said. "I don't know if we have the opportunity to move up. I don't think we'll move down. We're too strong."

The action begins at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at La Salle University and continues Sunday at 11 a.m.

Wood's Caitlyn Harrington is seeded second in the 500 freestyle and third in the 200 freestyle. Caitlin Seckinger is seeded second in the 100 breaststroke and fifth in the 500 freestyle.

Theresa Skonicki is the second seed in the 100 freestyle and the third seed in the 200 IM.

"She has a good shot to win both," Stillwell said.

Shannon Seckinger (Caitlin's sister) has been cleared to swim in the breaststroke. Seckinger, who underwent shoulder surgery at the start of the season, returned to the pool last month and had been swimming the backstroke with just one arm. Although she is seeded No. 33 in the breaststroke, Seckinger likes her chances.

"Even with the rest and layoff, she can pop a 1:12," Stillwell said. "She is all guts. If you're going to war, you want her on your side."

At the Eastern championships, Wood's top performer was freshman diver Stephanie Schuh, who placed 13th. Schuh is a member of the Centennial Aquatic Club.

Wood 100, Carroll 65

Archbishop Wood defeated Archbishop Carroll, 100-65, in Philadelphia Catholic League boys swimming Monday night.

Individual winners for the Vikings were Chris Augustine (500-yard freestyle, 100 freestyle), Matt O'Connor (100 butterfly, 100 backstroke) and Kevin Whelen (100 breaststroke).

The Vikings' 200 medley and 200 free relay teams were also victorious.

Host Central Bucks East captured four of the eight girls events Friday at the 29th annual CB East Relay Carnival, as the Patriots kicked off their 2000-01 swimming season.

East prevailed in the 200-yard backstroke (1 minute, 58.54 seconds), 200 breaststroke (2:12.06) and 200 butterfly (1:54.15) relays, and also won the diving competition (386.90 points).

Jen Mraz, Kirstin Berg, Betsy Maragakes and Jenna Lawson swam on East's backstroke relay. Lauren Wood, Carolyn Castagna, Danielle Fournier and Rachael Wnukowski took part in the 200 breaststroke win, and Wood and Maragakes teamed with Stacey McGinty and Christine Mikulski in the 200 fly.

In diving, Katie Lewis and Lisa Yeakel joined forces for the victory.

The East girls also placed second in the 200 medley relay and third in both the 400 individual medley and 500 crescendo relays.

Souderton's girls picked up two event wins, capturing the 200 freestyle relay (1:43.57) with the team of Tracey Hemmerle, Robbyn O'Connor, Alison Pettine and Cailin Collins, and the 200 medley relay with a quartet of Colleen Wasson, Hemmerle, Collins and O'Connor.

The Indians also placed second in the 400 IM (4:28.80).

Archbishop Wood won the 400 IM (4:23.98) with a team of Theresa Skonicki, Caitlyn Harrington, Caitlin Seckinger and Shannon Seckinger. The Vikings also placed third in the 200 backstroke (2:04.34).

Central Bucks West earned second-place finishes in the 200 free (1:45.45) and 200 back (2:00.20). William Tennent was second in the 200 breast (2:18.81) and 200 fly (1:56.39). Hatboro-Horsham finished second in the 500 crescendo (4:53.25) and 200 medley (1:55.78).

Girls swim notes

ARCHBISHOP WOOD: The team of Kelly Dansbury, Caitlin Seckinger, Theresa Skonicki and Caitlyn Harrington clocked in at 1:59.70 to take seventh in the 200-yard medley relay at the National Catholic championships, held at Villanova University. Harrington also took ninth in the 500 freestyle 5:25.65.

DiBiagio overcomes. If swimming was not a difficult sport already, Kelly DiBiagio must also deal with asthma. There is no place in the pool for the Archbishop Wood sophomore's inhaler.

"Sometimes, she just can't breathe at all," Wood coach Charlie Stillwell said. "A few meets last year, we had to pull her out of the water and she couldn't even swim her next event. She's working really hard. Sometimes I have to cut her back. I think this year she'll do really well."

Despite her condition, DiBiagio is contributing to the Vikings' cause. At the Central Bucks East Relays on Dec. 1, she was a member of the 400-meter backstroke relay team that placed third. She will also swim the sprint freestyle races.

"She'll definitely play a key role this year," Stillwell said. "She has been swimming for a long time. She has very good form and technique."

Wood's workouts are well-suited for DiBiagio, since Stillwell emphasizes speed over distance.

"We do a lot of sprinting," Stillwell said. "I can take advantage of the way our practice is by doing less yardage and higher quality."

Prep tops Vikings — Matthew O'Connor won two events and Thomas Keiser won one, but Archbishop Wood fell to St. Joseph's Prep, 57-35.

The other big meet this weekend is the Eastern Interscholastic Championships, set for Friday and Saturday at La Salle University.

Archbishop Wood is sending 16 individuals to the event, including boys standout Matt O'Connor, a junior who will compete in the 100-yard butterfly and 100 backstroke. The other boys on hand will be Chris Augustine (50 freestyle, 100 free), Kevin Whelen (50 free, 100 breaststroke) and Thomas Keiser (100 breast).

The Wood boys are also scheduled to swim in the 200 medley and 200 free relays.

On the girls' side, freshman Caitlyn Harrington (200 free, 500 free) and junior Theresa Skonicki (100 free, 200 free) will lead the way for Wood.

Other Vikings scheduled to compete are Mary Dixon (100 breast), Kelly Dansbury (200 free, 500 free), Lindsey Stillwell (50 free, 100 free), Kelly DiBiagio (50 free, 100 free), Caitlin Seckinger (500 free, 100 breast), Lisa Whitlock (100 fly), Jill Brennecke (50 free, 100 free), Michelle Racine (50 free), Katelyn Crompton (100 breast) and Stephanie Schuh (diving).

O'Hara 101, Wood 64

Matt O'Connor posted a pair of individual-event victories Friday, but Archbishop Wood dropped a 101-64 verdict to Cardinal O'Hara in a Philadelphia Catholic League boys swim meet.

O'Connor's wins came in the 100-yard butterfly (55.77 seconds) and 200 individual medley (2:09.33).

The Vikings prevailed in only two other events. Thomas Keiser won the 100 breaststroke (1:09.19), and Chris Augustine, Jarrett Kealey, Andre Gardner and Kevin Whelen placed first in the 400 free relay (3:54.56).

Girls swimming

O'Hara 95, Wood 75

Archbishop Wood managed just three event wins Friday, in a 95-75 loss to Cardinal O'Hara in Philadelphia Catholic League girls swimming action.

O'Hara captured first place in each of the first six events before Wood's Caitlyn Harrington won the 500-yard freestyle (5 minutes, 23.02 seconds). The Vikings also got a win from Mary Dixon in the 100 breaststroke (1:19.23) and from Lindsey Stillwell, Michelle Racine, Jill Brennecke and Caitlin Seckinger in the 400 free relay (4:21.80).

PHILADELPHIA — With 488 points, Archbishop Wood High School took third place in the Philadelphia Catholic League girls swimming championships yesterday afternoon at La Salle University.

Cardinal O'Hara scored 682 points to handily beat Archbishop Ryan, which placed second with 571.

"I'm very happy with it," said Wood coach Charlie Stillwell. "We actually had a shot to move up (to second) if everybody swam real well."

"Our swims were unbelievable, and it was mostly from our freshmen. Everybody stepped up and had their best times, so we actually picked up about 35 points from where we were supposed to be because everybody swam so well."

The Vikings didn't capture any titles but had top-three finishes in two of the three relay races and in five individual events.

The tightest race of the day was the 500-yard freestyle. Wood freshman Caitlyn Harrington was the top seed, and she battled O'Hara sophomore Courtney Clark neck-and-neck before settling for second place.

"I thought it was going to be close because we were just one-tenth of a second off each other's seeding time," Harrington said. "I wasn't sure if I was going to win it or not, so I just decided to swim my race. I expected it to be real close."

Harrington's seeding time was 5 minutes, 21.05 seconds. Clark, who swam in a different preliminary heat, was listed at 5:21.16. If Harrington had longer fingernails, she might have won yesterday. Her 5:18.88 was less than one-tenth of a second behind Clark's winning time of 5:18.79.

"That was the best race of the day," Stillwell said.

Harrington also had the lead through most of the race. The two were never far apart, but Harrington was ahead until about the 400-yard turn.

Harrington also placed third — right behind Clark — in a 200 freestyle that was close but not as tight as the 500. Archbishop Carroll's Emily Mangino won that race with a time of 1:59.54, followed by Clark (2:00.36) and Harrington (2:00.48).

Teammate Caitlin Seckinger had a similar experience. The Vikings freshman nearly won the 100 breaststroke only to be edged by Ryan's Kathryn Hartman.

Just as Harrington and Clark are friendly, so are Seckinger and Hartman.

Hartman "is on another swimming team with me, and she's my friend, so it's kind of fun swimming against her," Seckinger said. "I wanted to win that race, but she's real good, and I'm happy for her. I'm not real upset about it."

Theresa Skonicki also placed in the top three in two events. She finished second in the 200 freestyle and third in the individual medley.

In the team events, Wood took second in the medley relay (Kelly Dansbury, Seckinger, Skonicki, Harrington) and third in the 400 freestyle relay (Dansbury, Kelly DiBiagio, Harrington, Skonicki).

In the boys competition, La Salle scored 847 points to win its 13th consecutive championship. O'Hara was second, followed by Father Judge.

Wood placed seventh with 145 points. The only Viking to finish in the top three was Matt O'Connor, who placed third in the 100-yard butterfly.

Wood eases by Hallahan —
Theresa Skonicki, Mary Dixon, Kelly DiBiagio and Kelly Dansbury won two individual events apiece to power Archbishop Wood to a 97-30 victory over John W. Hallahan last Friday.

Archbishop Wood 97, John W. Hallahan 30
200 medley relay—Archbishop Wood (Kelly DiBiagio, Mary Dixon, Joellen Seagraves, Lindsey Stillwell) 2:14.43; 200 freestyle—Theresa Skonicki (AW) 2:05.93; 200 individual medley—Mary Dixon (AW) 2:39.70; 50 freestyle—Kelly DiBiagio (AW) 28.95; 100 butterfly—Kelly Dansbury (AW) 1:07.85; 100 freestyle—Theresa Skonicki (AW) 58.50; 500 freestyle—Kelly Dansbury (AW) 5:49.50; 200 freestyle relay—Theresa Skonicki (AW) 1:57.65; 100 backstroke—Kelly DiBiagio (AW) 1:13.74; 100 breaststroke—Mary Dixon (AW) 1:22.51; 400 freestyle relay—Archbishop Wood (Theresa Skonicki, Elizabeth Dufner, Kelly DiBiagio, Kelly Dansbury) 4:22.84.

Vikings have top-three finishes in two of three relays

PHILADELPHIA — With 488 points, Archbishop Wood took third place in the Philadelphia Catholic League girls swimming championships Sunday afternoon at La Salle University.

Cardinal O'Hara scored 682 points to handily beat Archbishop Ryan, which placed second with 571.

"I'm very happy with it," said Wood coach Charlie Stillwell. "We actually had a shot to move up (to second) if everybody swam real well.

"Our swims were unbelievable, and it was mostly from our freshmen. Everybody stepped up and had their best times, so we actually picked up about 35 points from where we were supposed to be because everybody swam so well."

The Vikings didn't capture any titles but had top-three finishes in two of the three relay races and in five individual events.

The tightest race of the day was the 500-yard freestyle. Wood freshman Caitlyn Harrington was the top seed, and she battled O'Hara sophomore Courtney Clark neck-and-neck before settling for second place.

"I thought it was going to be close because we were just one-tenth of a second off each other's seeding time," said Harrington. "I wasn't sure if I was going to win it or not, so I just decided to swim my race. I expected it to be real close."

Harrington's seeding time was 5 minutes, 21.05 seconds. Clark, who swam in a different preliminary heat, was listed at 5:21.16. If Harrington had longer fingernails, she might have won on Sunday. Her 5:18.88 was less than one-tenth of a second behind Clark's winning time of 5:18.79.

"That was the best race of the day," Stillwell said. "They know each other very well. They talk on the Internet and everything, so they're good friends. They swim against each other at National Catholics and Easterns and in the dual meets, so they've already faced each other four or five times this year, and most of the time, it's pretty close.

"Courtney wins most of the events, but it was a lot closer today than it's been in the past. Courtney is usually a second or two faster, but Caitlyn was just on today. She dropped her time by two seconds."

Harrington also had the lead through most of the race. The two were never far apart, but Harrington was ahead until about the 400-yard turn.

"We told her to take it out early and to try to stay ahead of (Clark) because Courtney likes to come back in the second half," said Stillwell. "Caitlyn had a little extra at the end and almost caught her."

Harrington also placed third — right behind Clark — in a 200 freestyle that was close but not as tight as the 500. Archbishop Carroll's Emily Mangino won that race with a time of 1:59.54, followed by Clark (2:00.36) and Harrington (2:00.48).

Teammate Caitlin Seckinger had a similar experience. The Vikings' freshman nearly won the 100 breaststroke only to be edged by Ryan's Kathryn Hartman.

Just as Harrington and Clark are friendly, so are Seckinger and Hartman.

Hartman "is on another swimming team with me, and she's my friend, so it's kind of fun swimming against her," said Seckinger. "I wanted to win that race, but she's real good, and I'm happy for her. I'm not real upset about it."

Theresa Skonicki also placed in the top three in two events. She finished second in the 200 freestyle and third in the individual medley.

In the team events, Wood took second in the medley relay (Kelly Dansbury, Seckinger, Skonicki, Harrington) and third in the 400 freestyle relay (Dansbury, Kelly DiBiagio, Harrington, Skonicki).

"I'm very happy with the way the girls swam this weekend," Stillwell said. "I really couldn't have asked for anything better."
